FOR ALL CHILDREN

Join our mission

We tackle poverty at its roots. Our integrated approach includes water, healthcare, education, child protection, and income generation, so every child can grow into who God created them to be.

"Esther's favourite meal is cabbage with rice, she really loves this meal," says Abetina, her mum. The group harvests more than ten tonnes of cabbage and other vegetables each season thanks to the support of World Vision, which has provided seeds and agricultural training every year since 2020.

HOPE AND A FUTURE FOR ALL CHILDREN

For more than 70 years, World Vision has been working to transform the lives of children living in the hardest places. We help children of all backgrounds – in some of the most dangerous places – overcome poverty and experience fullness of life.

Our faith inspires and guides us to demonstrate God's unconditional love for all people. We partner freely with children and their communities, donors, other organisations and faith communities, working together and making a collaborative effort for justice.

We serve alongside people living in poverty as a demonstration of God's unconditional love for all people. World Vision serves all people, regardless of religion, race, ethnicity, or gender.

We work in partnership with communities and guide them to set their own goals. We equip them to sustain and continue their progress long after we've left.

When disaster strikes, we are there, quickly providing immediate support – and we stay helping to rebuild lives for children, families, and communities.

Our approach to end violence against children protects them today and gives them a voice for tomorrow. We do this by equipping them, their communities, and local partners with the tools to address the root causes of violence against children.

For every child,
LIFE IN ALL ITS FULLNESS,
and for every heart
THE WILL TO MAKE IT SO.

See your impact

In 2022¹, World Vision UK supported 3 million people including 1.3 million children in 34 countries. This included responding to humanitarian emergencies in 18 countries, reaching over 500,000 children.

World Vision works in nearly 100 countries around the world. Here are some stories highlighting how, together with our supporters and partners, we help transform communities and protect children. For more information, visit: worldvision.org.uk/ourimpact.

KENYA – Protecting girls

Worldwide, 12 million girls get married every year before they turn 18. That's 23 girls every minute.² Disasters and conflict have increased poverty, further exposing girls (and also boys) to physical, sexual and/or emotional violence. World Vision works with communities and local faith leaders to protect girls and keep them in education. Leah, 14, was inspired to fight for the rights of children in her community after taking part in a World Vision mentorship programme. She learnt about the impact of female genital mutilation as well as child marriage, and now she advocates for other girls in her community.

"Sometimes children feel like they are helpless yet they also have the power to fight for their rights," says Leah, 14.

³Some also have other programmes too

DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF CONGO – Responding to emergencies

Chance lost her father, grandmother, and her home when floods swept through her village in eastern DRC. Now taking care of her younger brothers in a camp, she's receiving support from World Vision. This includes food, but also an intimate hygiene kit with soap, underwear, cloth sanitary towels and a bucket with a lid.

"I'm proud to receive yet another intimate hygiene kit through World Vision, because the first one was swept away by the disaster," says Chance, 14.

SYRIA – Fighting hunger

Climate change, disasters, conflict, and the rising cost of living are worsening existing hunger hotspots and producing new ones. Children are often the worst affected, including fourteen-month-old Tamer*.

When World Vision screened Tamer he was found to be "severely malnourished". Three and a half months of monitoring and dietary changes mean he's now a healthy weight.

Each year, thanks to supporters, the global World Vision partnership provides emergency support to 5 million children like Tamer.

KENYA – Adapting to climate change

Many fragile countries endure the effects of climate change through droughts, floods, mud slides and locusts, which threaten lives and livelihoods. In Kenya, we work with communities to protect and restore water sources and storage. We also improve families' livelihoods by teaching better farming techniques.

"Since we grow many food crops, we are able to get carbohydrates, vitamins and proteins in our diet," says Anita, 11.

Our global impact

In 2022, through the global World Vision Partnership:

3.2 million children were sponsored

3 million people gained clean water

30 million people were helped in emergencies

Every 60 seconds...

a family gets clean water...

a hungry child is fed...

a family receive the tools to overcome poverty

World Vision is reaching one new person with clean water every 10 seconds and reaches three more schools every day with clean water.

Over the last ten years, 89% of the severely malnourished children we treated made a full recovery.

Because of our community-focused solutions, for every child you help, four more children benefit too.

As a World Vision supporter, you are part of something bigger than you, that is creating greater change. Your donations are making a long-lasting difference to children's lives as we partner with them and their communities.

"I don't worry about lunch anymore because there is enough food at home. My mother's food is now delicious because she cooks it with sweet pepper and fresh cucumbers," says Stella (pictured on the right). "I help my mother grow kale, cabbages, maize and spinach after school. The plants look beautiful. Of all the crops, I like spinach because it looks beautiful and it is sweet. My mother is happy and says it now feels like [we're] growing up again."

Make a difference

There are many ways you can help give children living in the hardest places the life they deserve.

SPONSOR A CHILD

Change a child's life for good. Through sponsorship, you build lasting change to a child and community by giving clean water, nutritious food, healthcare, education, protection and a future they can finally look forward to. See the difference you're making, and the joy you bring to children like Ratri, 16, from Bangladesh.

SAVE AND PROTECT CHILDREN

Help save and protect children in the world's most dangerous places, like Gloria, 4, (pictured) a refugee from Ukraine. In places torn apart by conflict and violence. In the villages reduced to rubble by natural disasters. In the refugee camps where children arrive traumatised and desperate for safety. We can be there, thanks to you.
